This document certifies that I,

(lead author name), with the consent of all co-authors, hereby assign the copyright of the paper identified above to the International Solar Energy Society (ISES), and that ISES owns the right to print, publish and reproduce, in whole or in part the paper, in all forms of media, including the Internet, in written, electronic or any other form as part of the Book of Abstracts as well as the Congress Proceedings, and in an online database of ISES Conference Proceedings, throughout the world for the full term of the copyright, effective when and if the paper is accepted for publication.

Notwithstanding the author's rights for use stipulated below, ISES shall be entitled to transfer the assigned copyright partly or completely to third parties.

No compensation shall be claimed for such publication. I understand that I retain or am hereby granted (without the need to obtain further permission) rights to use certain versions of the Paper for certain scholarly purposes, as described and defined below and that no patents, trademarks or other intellectual property rights are transferred to ISES.

- The right to make copies (print or electronic) of the paper for own personal use, including for classroom teaching.
- The right to make and distribute copies (electronic and paper) of the article to research colleagues for personal use but not for commercial purposes¹.
- The right to post the paper on the author's personal or institutional website or server, incorporating the complete citation and with a link to the Digital Object Identifier of the paper.
- The right to present the paper at a meeting of conference and to distribute copies of the paper to the delegates or meeting

¹Commercial purposes: The use of the accepted paper for commercial purposes is prohibited or requires ISES' prior written permission. Examples of commercial use include but are not limited to the use or posting of the paper for commercial gain, including for use by customers; for commercial exploitation such as directly advertising with such postings; the charging of fees for the document access, or the use of the paper by a for-profit, commercial organisation for promotional purposes, whether free or for a fee.

- For the author's employer, if the paper is made within the scope of the author's employment, the right to use all or part of the information in the paper for intra-company or intra-institution use, such as training, including posting the paper on a secure, company/institution internal intranets.
- The right to include the paper, in full or in part, in a thesis or dissertation
- The right to use the article or any part in a compilation of works of the author, such as collected writings or lecture materials, and
- The right to prepare other derivative works, to extend the article into book-length form, or to otherwise re-use portions or excerpts in other works, with the full acknowledgement of its original publication in ISES conference proceedings.

I affirm that the paper, including all images, graphics, illustrations, supplement tables and other information submitted, is an original work of the author(s) and has not been published elsewhere. The paper is not currently being considered for publication by any other journal or for any other conference, and will not be submitted for such review while under review for the "EuroSun 2022". The paper will not in any way violate or infringe any rights of third parties and contains no material of an obscene, defamatory, unlawful or libelous nature, and does not contain any statements or information that is intentionally misleading or inaccurate. If excerpts from other works held in copyright are reproduced, the author(s) has (have) obtained the necessary permission from the appropriate copyright holders.

I confirm I have reviewed and compiled the paper with the relevant Author Instructions provided in the abstract and full paper templates.

If the paper was prepared jointly with other authors, the undersigning author has informed the coauthors of the terms of this agreement and is signing on their behalf representing that he/she is authorized to do so.

This Assignment shall be subject to the laws of Germany. Place of jurisdiction shall be Freiburg im Breisgau, Germany.

Any amendments to this agreement shall not be valid unless made in writing and signed by both parties.
